

Tips for Remote Accommodations for Students

Classroom

Electronic Note-taking (laptop, ipad, etc.)

- Using multiple screens (laptop or computer for class, and iPad for note-taking)
- Splitting your screen (setting up one side of the screen as the online class and one side of the screen is your note-taking)

Audio Recording

- If using multiple screens, you can audio record on your iPad in the same way as before - having the recording going while you take notes and just have your computer audio on speaker
- If taking notes on your mac or ipad or pc (multiple options)

Note Taking Assistance

- If you are approved for this accommodation, please reach out to the Accessibility Coordinator for the procedures that govern this accommodation.

Breaks

- Reach out to your instructor via email to check in on how breaks can best work. If on Zoom, you can send your professor a private chat message.

Testing

Time and a Half or Double Extended Time

- Letters of Accommodation: Make sure to request your Letter of Accommodation and we will send you and your professor an electronic copy. Moodle is design to easily implement this accommodation. Please make sure to alert your professor well in advance of your exam date.

Reduced Distraction

- Environmental Changes: Be cognizant of your environment of limiting distractions and noise and try to create a space that will work best for you
